Li & Fung exec on NUS biz school advisory board

THE National University of Singapore (NUS) Business School has appointed William Fung Kwok Lun, the executive deputy chairman of Li & Fung Limited, as a member of its management advisory board.

His term as a member of the board will span two years, starting from yesterday.

The board provides strategic advice and guidance to the dean and leadership of the NUS Business School. It comprises prominent business leaders.

The chairman of the board is S Dhanabalan, chairman of Temasek Holdings. The deputy chairman is Hsieh Fu Hua, president and executive director of Temasek Holdings.

Li & Fung Limited is a Hong Kong-listed multinational consumer goods export and logistics company.

Dr Fung, 62, has a Bachelor of Science in Engineering from Princeton University, as well as an MBA from the Harvard Graduate School of Business.

He also has a Doctor of Business Administration, honoris causa from the Hong Kong University of Science & Technology, as well as an Honorary Degree of Doctor of Business Administra-