S'pore springboard for South Asian diaspora: PM

SINGAPORE is well-positioned to be the springboard for the South Asian diaspora to engage the rest of Asia and world, said Prime Minister Lee Hsien Loong.

He said at the first South Asian Diaspora Convention yesterday that a good legal system, transparent business environment and prevalent use of English make the nation a “natural hub” where companies and talent can connect.

A safe environment, good education and health care also make Singapore attractive to families.

The convention, held here, brought together prominent members of the diaspora. Singapore is the second largest foreign investor in India.
